Bibliography of Research-Based Literature on Human Trafficking: 2008-2014

By Elżbieta M. Goździak, PhD with
Sarah Graveline, Whitney Skippings, and Minna Song

Georgetown University
February 2015
Acknowledgments

Preparation of bibliographies is an arduous and often thankless task, but it can also be rewarding and can lead to new discoveries of unknown research and exciting authors. At the Institute for the Study of International Migration (ISIM) we have undertaken preparation of bibliographies and analyses of empirical research on human trafficking several times. The bibliography in front of you is our latest attempt to compile research-based articles, reports, and books on various aspects of trafficking of persons—adults and children—across international borders. We hope that you will find it useful in designing and conducting your own empirical studies on human trafficking.

We wish to thank warmly the National Institute of Justice (NIJ) that has been supporting ISIM’s research on human trafficking since 2005. NIJ supported the preparation of the first bibliography and inspired us to continue updating the bibliography without additional funding.

We also wish to thank Fiona David of the Walk Free Foundation who shared with us her own literature compilations. Many thanks Fiona!

Thank you to C. Timothy McKeown for cover photo photography.

About the Authors

Elżbieta M. Goździak is the Director of Research at the Institute for the Study of International Migration (ISIM) and Editor of International Migration. Formerly, she held a senior position with the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in the US Department of Health and Human Services. She taught at the Howard University’s School of Social Work in the Social Work with Displaced Populations Program, and managed a program area on admissions and resettlement of refugees in industrialized countries for the Refugee Policy Group. Prior to immigrating to the US, she was an Associate Professor of Anthropology at the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland.

Dr. Goździak has managed several research activities related to issues of human trafficking for labor and sexual exploitation. Currently, she directs a two-year project, funded by the National Institute of Justice (NIJ), to present a profile of adult survivors of human trafficking assisted by the Office of Refugee Resettlement’s (ORR) Anti-Trafficking Services Programs and to evaluate the effectiveness of interventions to stabilize, rehabilitate, and integrate survivors into the wider society. With funding from Humanity United, she evaluated an anti-trafficking program—Stop Girl Trafficking—in Nepal. Under grants from NIJ, she conducted an assessment of research-based literature on human trafficking according to its methodological merit and compiled a comprehensive annotated bibliography of existing English-language publications on trafficking in persons, and an a study of children and youth trafficked to the US to examine patterns of abuse, analyze challenges service providers face in assisting child victims, and identify best practices and treatment modalities used to facilitate rehabilitation of child victims of trafficking. Dr. Goździak has published several articles on research on human trafficking and on child victims of trafficking for labor and sexual exploitation. She also edited (with Frank Laczko) a special issue of International Migration on Improving Data and Research on Human Trafficking. Currently, she is working on a book manuscript on children trafficked to the United States.

Sarah Graveline is a Research Assistant at the Institute for the Study of International Migration. Previously she studied Swahili and conducted research in Kenya and Tanzania as a David L. Boren Fellow. She holds an MA from Georgetown University and a BA from Emory University.

Whitney Skippings is a 2014 graduate of Georgetown University’s Security Studies Program, with a concentration in international security. During this time, she traveled to Uganda and Rwanda, to research women’s post conflict reintegration. Prior to attending Georgetown, she graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Spelman College with degrees in International Studies and Philosophy. While her family is from Cat Island, Bahamas, Whitney was born and raised in Silver Spring, Maryland.

Minna Song is a Women’s and Gender Studies student at Georgetown University. As a senior, she joined Dr. Gozdziak’s team at ISIM as a research assistant. She has also conducted research at the Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center with Dr. Sheppard on racial breast cancer disparities. After Georgetown, she plans to pursue a Master’s in Public Health.
Table of Contents

Acknowledgements 2
About the Authors 2
Introduction 5

Bibliography of Researched-Based Literature 6
On Human Trafficking: 2008-2014 6

Books 6

Journal Articles 12

Reports 68
Introduction

Human trafficking continues to capture the imagination of the global public. Popular books about trafficking, especially books on sex trafficking sell well in commercial and university bookstores alike. Gut wrenching narratives about women kept as sexual slaves and children sold into domestic servitude appear on front pages of major international newspapers and in academic journals. There are a lot of writings about human trafficking, but there is significantly less literature based on empirical research.

Critical observations about the state of research-based knowledge about human trafficking are of import to policy discussions about trafficking in persons and to programming for trafficked victims. In order to leave the empirical vacuum within which human trafficking is so often debated, we need solid and systematic empirical studies. At the Institute for the Study of International Migration (ISIM), we have periodically undertaken the task of compiling and evaluating existing literature on human trafficking.

In 2005, Dr. Elzbieta M. Gozdziaik (with Frank Laczko of the International Organization for Migration) edited a special issue of International Migration on Improving Data and Research on Human Trafficking. Two years later, with funding from the National Institute of Justice (NIJ), Dr. Gozdziaik and Micah N. Bump compiled a comprehensive bibliography of English language research-based literature on human trafficking using EndNote, an electronic bibliographic management program, developed a taxonomy to categorize the identified references according to a set of criteria devised in consultation with the NIJ, and analyzed the compiled bibliography to assess the state of the English language research literature on trafficking in persons. The report resulting from this exercise—Data and Research on Human Trafficking: Bibliography of Research-Based Literature—is available for download at http://issuu.com/georgetownsf/docs/120731154817-518884e6603142779fa6798568862af1

The present bibliography builds on the earlier effort. It includes a listing of journal articles, reports, and books on various aspects of human trafficking, based on empirical research and published between the years of 2008 and 2014. The bibliography covers international cross-border trafficking of adults and children. It does not include readings on domestic minor sex trafficking (DMST). As scholars of international migration we focus on mobility across international borders.

The bibliography is based on an interactive EndNote database that includes all the journal articles and reports listed here.
Bibliography of Research-Based Literature on Human Trafficking: 2008-2014

Books:

Bowley, Mary Frances. The White Umbrella: Walking with Survivors of Sex Trafficking. Moody Pub-

Schrover, Marlou, Joanne Van Der Leun, Leo Lucassen, & Chris Quispel, ed. Illegal Migration and Gender in a Global and Historical Perspective. Amsterdam: Amsterdam University Press, 2008.

Journal Articles:

Chakraborti, Aretha. “Alien Human-Trafficking Victims in the United States: Examining the Constitutionality of Thetvpa and Ina’s Assistance Requirements.” University of Pennsylvania Journal

Dagistanli, Selda, and Sanja Milivojevic. “Appropriating the Rights of Women: Moral Panics, Vic-Goldenberg, S. m, J. g Silverman, D. Engstrom, I. Bojorquez-Chapela, and S. a Strathdee. “Right

Hodge, David R. “Sexual Trafficking in the United States: A Domestic Problem with Transnational

Howard, Neil. “Is ‘Child Placement’ Trafficking?: Questioning the Validity of an Accepted Discourse (Respond to This Article at ).” Anthropology Today 27, no. 6 (2011): 3-7.

Hua, Julietta. “Telling Stories of Trafficking: The Politics of Legibility.” Meridians: Feminism, Race,

Kelemen, Katalin, and Marta C. Johansson. “Still Neglecting the Demand That Fuels Human Trafficking: A Study Comparing the Criminal Laws and Practice of Five European States on Human Trafficking, Purchasing Sex from Trafficked Adults and from Minors.” European Journal

King, Shani M. “Owning Laura Silsby’s Shame: How the Haitian Child Trafficking Scheme Embod-

Leidholdt, Dorchen A. “Human Trafficking and Domestic Violence a Primer for Judges.” *Judges’

Magar, Veronica. “Rescue and Rehabilitation: A Critical Analysis of Sex Workers’ Antitrafficking Response in India.” Signs 37, no. 3 (2012).

Mansberger, Marion. “Critical Thoughts on Human Trafficking and How to Include the Subject in a Mainstream Education System in India.” Social Change 41, no. 4 (2011): 611-25.

Nijhof, Karin S., Ron H. J. Scholte, W. J. Burk, Rutger C. M. E. Engels, Coleta Van Dam, and Jan W. Veerman. “Sexual Behavior and Treatment Improvement of Institutionalized Girls.” *Residen-

Olujide, M. G., O. Oladele, and A. A. Akinbobola. “Knowledge and Perception Towards Human Traf-

Page, Kimberly, Ellen Stein, Neth Sansothy, Jennifer Evans, Marie-Claude Couture, Keo Sichan,

Peers, Steve. “Legislative Update EU Immigration and Asylum Law 2010: Extension of Long-Term Residence Rights and Amending the Law on Trafficking in Human Beings.” European Jour-

Pijl, Yvon, Brenda Carina Oude Breuil, and Dina Siegel. “Is There Such Thing as ‘Global Sex Trafficking’? A Patchwork Tale on Useful (Mis)Understandings.” Crime, Law and Social Change

Robertson, Mary A., and Arlene Sgoutas. “Thinking Beyond the Category of Sexual Identity: At the Intersection of Sexuality and Human-Trafficking Policy.” Politics & Gender 8, no. 3 (2012): 421-29.

Serafini, Paulo. “Juvenile Prostitution in Brazil: An International Call to Action on Female Sex Traf-Simkhada, Padam. “Life Histories and Survival Strategies Amongst Sexually Trafficked Girls in Ne-

Tavakoli, Nina. “A Crime That Offends the Conscience of Humanity: A Proposal to Reclassify Traf-Troshynski, Emily, and Jennifer Blank. “Sex Trafficking: An Exploratory Study Interviewing Traf-

Viuhko, Minna. “Human Trafficking for Sexual Exploitation and Organized Procuring in Finland.”

Reports

_________.”Exploited for Profit, Failed by Governments: Indonesian Migrant Domestic Workers Trafficked to Hong Kong.” 2013.

——. “Refugees Face Kidnapping for Ransom, Brutal Treatment and Human Trafficking.” 2013.

Community Relations Commission for a Multicultural NSW, “Inquiry into the Exploitation of People through Trafficking, in All Its Forms in NSW.” 2013.

———. “The Use of Information and Communication Technologies in Connection with Cases of Child-Sex Tourism in East and Southeast Asia.” 2010, 1-65.

ECPAT International and Maiti, “Youth-Led Study in the Vulnerability of Young Girls Working in Enterprise for Business & Development Management (EBDM)/ BEFARe / ActionAid Pakistan / European Union “Baseline Study on Illegal Migration, Human Smuggling and Trafficking in Pakistan.” Peshawar, 2009.

———. “From the Tiger to the Crocodile: Abuse of Migrant Workers in Thailand.” 2010.

Human Rights Watch, “‘They Deceived Us at Every Step’: Abuse of Cambodian Domestic Workers Migrating to Malaysia.” 2011.

———. “Exploratory Assessment of Trafficking in Persons in the Caribbean Region: The Bahamas, Barbados, Guyana, Jamaica, the Netherlands Antilles, St. Lucia, Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago (Second Edition).” Geneva, 2010.

———. “Trafficking in Human Beings Amounting to Torture and Other Forms of Ill-Treatment.” In Occasional Paper Series of the OSR/CTHB. Vienna, 2013.

Owens, Colleen, Meredith Dank, and William Adams. “Identifying Challenges to Improve the Inves-

Simmons, Frances, Brynn O’Brien, Fiona David, and Laura Beacroft. “Human Trafficking and Slavery Offenders in Australia.” Australian Institute of Criminology, 2013.

———. “Smuggling of Migrants from India to Europe and in Particular to the Uk: A Study on Tamil Nadu.” New Dehli, 2009.

Wei, Bu. “Reporting Human Trafficking in China’s Print Media “: CP-TING Project to Prevent Trafficking in Girls and Young Women for Labour Exploitation within China, 2008.

The Institute for the Study of International Migration (ISIM) applies the best in social science, legal, and policy expertise to the complex issues raised by international migration. ISIM, founded in 1998, is part of the Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service and affiliated with the Law Center at Georgetown University.